BILATERAL DIALOGUE

Article 3

- 3.1 The Company endorses the importance of dialogue and regular interaction between the Company and its shareholders.
- 3.2 Dialogue and interaction during the General Meeting would safeguard the general principle reflected in Article 3.1 and, therefore, shareholders are encouraged to attend and exercise their voting rights at General Meetings. - 3.3 The Company may commence Bilateral Dialogue out of its own initiative, or comply with a request from one or more shareholders to enter into Bilateral Dialogue.
- 3.4 Without prejudice to the general rule that the Board of Directors shall be guided by the interests of the Company and of the business connected with it in performing their duties, the Company shall be free:
 - a. to reject a request for Bilateral Dialogue;
 - b. to terminate Bilateral Dialogue at any point in time; and
 - c. not to initiate Bilateral Dialogue.
- 3.5 In order to enable the Company to assess whether Bilateral Dialogue requested by one or more shareholders could be in the Company's best interests, the Company may request such shareholder(s) to provide the Company in advance, and in writing, with all relevant information regarding the purpose of the Bilateral Dialogue so requested (including the topic(s) of such Bilateral Dialogue), and the views of such shareholder(s) on the matters to be discussed during such Bilateral Dialogue.
- 3.6 To the extent possible and practicable, the Company shall be represented by at least one Director (or another individual designated by the Board of Directors) in any Bilateral Dialogue.
- 3.7 The Company may involve its Investor Relations department in any Bilateral Dialogue, as well as such other officers of the Company and/or advisors as the Company deems appropriate.
- 3.8 The Executive Directors shall regularly (and at least annually) inform and consult the Non-Executive Directors on the process and content of any relevant Bilateral Dialogue.
